

CONTROL LIST FOR THE FOREIGN STUDENTS 2nd YEAR

1. Psychology as a science.
2. Psychology's place in the sciences and its structure.
3. Main goals of psychology.
4. The object and the subject of psychology.
5. The concept of the psyche.
6. Consciousness, the preconscious and the unconscious.
7. Mind and activities.
8. The role of the nervous system organization and structure in the mental regulation.
9. Sensation, perception, and representation. Types of sensations. Sensitivity and its development. Adaptation.
10. General characteristics of perception. Types of perception.
11. The concept of attention.
12. Memory, its general characteristics, properties and functions.
13. Memory processes.
14. Types of memory. Mechanisms of memory training.
15. The essence and definition of thinking. Main stages and forms of thinking.
16. Mental operations. Types and kinds of thinking.
17. The concept of representation. Imagination and creativity.
18. The concept of speech and language. Speech as a mean of communication and thinking.
19. Types of speech and their main characteristics. Relationship between the written and spoken word.
20. Psychological aspects of socialization.
21. Primary and secondary socialization.
22. Broad and narrow socialization.
23. Basic social processes and human behavior: social facilitation, social inhibition.
24. Basic social processes and human behavior: social control, social leaning.
25. Prosocial and antisocial behavior.
26. The life way of the individual. Self-actualization.
27. Psychosocial adaptation of the personality.
28. Term needs. Classification needs. Transformation needs. The mechanism needs. The implementation needs.
29. Motives: the instinct, desire. Motivational process. The mechanism of motivation. Motivation and performance.
30. Self-concept of a personality.
31. Psychological defenses.

32. The general concept of emotions. Psychological structure of emotions.
33. Classification of emotions. Forms of emotional response.
34. The concept of mental states. Frustration.
35. Deprivation. Aggression. Stress.
36. Temperament. The origin of the term "temperament". Temperament and the features of the nervous system. Types of temperament.
37. Character. Accentuation of character. Types of accentuation.
38. Abilities. The concept of abilities. The origin of abilities. Abilities and inclinations. Kinds of abilities. Endowment. Talent. The genius.
39. Communication. Interaction, interpersonal interaction and cognition, social perception.
40. The conflicts in interpersonal relationships. Classification and causes of conflict.
41. Conflict interaction. Conflict management.
42. The concept of a small group. Classification of small groups. Dynamic processes in the joint venture.
43. Socio-psychological climate of the group.
44. Interpersonal relationships. The status and role relationships.
45. Types of social roles.
46. Role conflicts.
47. Social stereotype.
48. Socialization is the process of forming a human behavioral patterns, which include the basic elements of the institutional requirements and regulations.
49. Socialization and education.
50. The role and functions of the family in the development, education, socialization. Types and families, especially their impact on the education of children.
51. Models of family relationships.
52. Conceptual foundations of family education in different periods of development.
53. Ways, means and conditions for successful parenting in the modern family. Legal basis of family education.