FOREWORD

As we begin a new decade, we enter an era of unprecedented change and uncertainty. Consensus has fractured on the benefits of globalisation and free trade, and the ability of multilateral institutions to tackle global challenges. This is exacerbated by an ongoing technological revolution, which is disrupting traditional models of work. Middle-class wages are stagnating in some countries, and inequality has risen. New threats are emerging, not only in the physical world but in the digital realm as well. And Nature stands ready to exact a price for anthropogenic climate change and pollution.

For a small country like Singapore, multilateralism and the rule of international law are critical to our survival and prosperity. The multilateral rules-based system is key to our continued security and economic dynamism. We need to double down and work together if we are to effectively deal with the transboundary challenges that confront us today, be it climate change, cybersecurity or pandemics. Singapore will also remain committed to free trade and greater economic integration.

The Singapore Cooperation Programme (SCP) underpins our efforts to help other countries build capacity to tackle our common challenges. Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong has identified climate change as the gravest challenge for humanity. The 2020/2021 SCP Training Calendar will continue to focus on Climate Action to support global efforts. Other training clusters aim to support the diverse development needs of our friends and partners. For example, the Smart Cities cluster focuses on technology-driven opportunities, while the Economy and Infrastructure cluster addresses sustainable and inclusive development.

Singapore recognises that the SCP is a two-way street. As we have shared our experiences, we have also learnt from the expertise of some 130,000 SCP participants from 170 countries and territories since 1992. This exchange allows all of us to learn and progress together, as we work to shape a collective future.

I hope that you will continue to find the SCP relevant and useful as we move forward together.

Dr Vivian Balakrishnan
Minister for Foreign Affairs

SCP SINGAPORE COOPERATION PROGRAMME | SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

The Singapore Cooperation Programme (SCP) supports the efforts of developing countries to implement the UN 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and its 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Through the SCP, Singapore partners UN agencies, such as UNICEF and UNDRR, to pool collective expertise towards capacity-building for the SDGs.

As you browse this calendar, look out for SDG icons that link each course to the 2030 Agenda.

THE INITIATIVE FOR ASEAN INTEGRATION (IAI)

Launched in 2000, the Initiative for ASEAN Integration (IAI) has been ASEAN's key initiative for narrowing the development gap in the region. The IAI provides a framework for the more developed ASEAN Member States (AMS) or ASEAN-6 to assist the newer AMS or CLMV (Cambodia, Lao PDR, Myanmar, Viet Nam) to meet ASEAN-wide targets and commitments and realise the goals of the ASEAN Community.

Since 2002, the IAI has been implemented under three Work Plans. Singapore supports the IAI through capacity building courses aligned to the strategic priorities of the IAI Work Plans. Over 43,000 CLMV officials have participated in IAI courses that we offer at our training centres in Phnom Penh, Vientiane, Yangon and Hanoi.
